The Crime That Snowballed

The day was dark and snowy. As Jamey and Jeff looked disconsolately out their large front window, wondering how to spend the remainder of the cold winter afternoon, they were surprised to hear a police whistle cut through the cold air. They watched carefully. At that moment two men darted behind the bush in the front of the yard.

"Jamey," queried Jeff to his brother, "what's cooking?"

"I don't know," answered Jamey, bewilderment in his brown eyes. "Let's watch."

As they watch, the two men seemed to whisper to each other, paused for a minute, then sauntered nonchalantly back out onto the sidewalk. As they reached the sidewalk a policeman darted toward them, gun in hand and escorted them away. Neither man made the least attempt to escape.

"Well," gasped Jeff in excitement, "we thought this would be a dull afternoon."

"Let's go find out what happened," said Jamey breathlessly as he raced into the hall to get his jacket.

"You mean we should go down to see Crimebuster?" asked Jeff as he put his jacket on inside out in excitement.

"I can't think of a better place to find out, can you?" said Jamey as he ran out the front door.

Crimebuster was deep in conversation with Loover, Squeeks — sitting on the desk listening with interest, as the two boys rushed into the room, cheeks red from the cold and eyes blazing in excitement.

"And a two thousand dollar emerald necklace was stolen . . ." Crimebuster was saying.

"Hello, C. B." greeted Jeff breathlessly.

"Hello, hoys! What brings you here in such an excited state?" asked Crimebuster.

"C. B.! We were just standing at the window this afternoon, wondering what to do, when . . ." Jamey related the story to Crimebuster.

Crimebuster pricked up his ears and listened intently until Jamey finished his story, then said, "You must have seen the two men that were just brought into headquarters on suspicion of jewel robbery. A two thousand dollar emerald necklace was stolen from Lowe's jewelry store just this afternoon. The police followed these two men as they'd been seen near the store. No one can identify the thief, or thieves, as Mr. Lowe was out and the clerk was knocked unconscious just as the thief entered the store. The police followed these men on a mere hunch and it seems, on searching them, nothing was found so they'll go free."

"Well," continued Jeff, "we thought we might be on hand for a real show down, but I guess we missed the boat."

"Not necessarily," laughed Crimebuster. "Just keep your eyes and ears open. The thief is still on the loose."

Jeff and Jamey lingered a while and talked to Crimebuster and Loover, then wandered home through the still falling snow.

"It's still early, Jamey," said Jeff. "Can't we do something?"

"Maybe we can track down the thief," laughed Jamey.

"We have no clue to go on," answered Jeff seriously.

"Guess you're right," answered Jamey. "Hey, let's build a snowman! This snow is perfect for it!"

"Why not," answered Jeff, "might as well get in practice for the snow sculpture contest at school."

"What'll we make?" queried Jamey.

"Oh, let's just make an old snowman complete with broom and charcoal eyes," suggested Jeff.

"Okay," answered Jamey, as he started rolling a ball of snow around the front yard.

The ball grew progressively larger as Jeff and Jamey rolled it around in bigger and bigger circles. Finally unable to push it any longer, they settled the large ball at a strategic spot on the front lawn.

Then they rolled another ball for the upper part of the snowman's body. Having used up all the snow in the immediate radius they rolled in farther circles, near the bushes, almost down to the street. With a final heave they rolled the ball away from the bushes and toward the first half of the snowman's body. Then with much pushing, lifting and shoving they raised the ball on top of the first one and started to mold the snowman into shape. The rest was easy. The head was plopped on top, and the snow finally began to look like a man. Jamey ran inside for the necessary broomstick, charcoal and other essentials, including an old hat, to make the snowman look as human as possible. As Jeff adjusted the hat on the snowman's head he looked at Jamey and said, "I've never seen a more manly fellow, have you?"

"Never," replied Jamey. "I hope we can do as well in the contest."

"We'll do better than this," answered Jeff.

After dinner Jamey settled down to his studies and Jeff left the house to go to a meeting at school. As he returned home later in the evening and walked up the front walk he suddenly noticed the snowman. He loomed up in the darkness and almost frightened Jeff, who, for a moment, had forgotten the afternoon's entertainment. Then much to Jeff's surprise he heard a voice.

Jeff stopped dead on the sidewalk. "But snowmen just don't talk," he thought to himself.

As Jeff tried to convince himself that he was imagining things, he distinctly heard a voice.

"What did ya drop the ice there for? Ya must have rocks in your head."

"Shut up," another voice replied, "I don't have rocks in my head, but you can bet your bottom dollar there are rocks in that head."

Jeff felt frozen to the spot but knew he had to act and act quickly. Fortunately the walk to the house was well shadowed. He crept quietly along, skirted the house and crept through the back door. He entered the house and raced to Jamey's room. Whispering quickly to Jamey, he ended with, "Let's call C. B."

Jeff ran to the telephone to call Crimebuster and Jamey ran to the window and looked out over the front yard and the snowman. The snowman looked suddenly different, then Jamey realized his head was missing. Jeff returned to the window and they watched. The snowman stood immobile without his head, then out of the shadows a figure approached. He stealthily crept behind the snowman and forced all his weight on the upper part of the snowman's body. Just as the man was shoving the snowman over, another figure raced up the front walk. A light was suddenly shined on the face of the man pushing on the snowman. He stopped dead and threw his hands high in the air. His companion was quickly brought from under cover of the bushes by another policeman. Both men had been shuttled into a police car by the time Jamey and Jeff had time to race to the front yard.

Crimebuster appeared in the yard simultaneously with Jeff and Jamey.

"Well, boys," said Crimebuster, "I think you really solved this for us. We'll be able to tell before long. Quick thinking on your part!"

Jeff and Jamey watched interestedly as the policemen, armed with torches, melted down the snowman of their afternoon's labor. As the torches melted through the upper half of the snowman's body, there, suddenly, gleaming through the melted snow, was an emerald necklace.

"Right you were boys," congratulated Crimebuster. "When you saw the two men this afternoon they dropped the necklace in the snow by the bushes. They intended to come back this evening and pick it up. When they returned what should they be faced with but a snowman! And they knew, that hidden somewhere in his body was the two thousand dollar emerald necklace that they had stolen."

SAYS GEORGE F. JOWETT—WORLD'S GREATEST BUILDER OF HE-MEN

Let me make YOU a WINNER IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE

YES! JOHN SILL'S SUCCESS STORY can soon be your own success story. HOW A THIN WEAKLING WINS A TROPHY AS A MAGNIFICENT AMERICAN HE-MAN. A few weeks ago, John was a skinny weakling. Everybody picked on him. He had no punch, no guts to fight for his rights. TODAY everyone admires John's movie-star champion build—his mighty ARMS, his heroic CHEST, his rock-like TORSO, his broad BACK, his military SHOULDERS. His newly-born POPULARITY with fellows. The way GIRLS flock around him. His prowess on the ATHLETIC field. His double energy at work.

NO! I don't care how skinny or flabby you are; if you're 14 or 40; if you're short or tall, or what work you do. All I want is JUST 10 EXCITING MINUTES in your own home to MAKE YOU OVER—by the SAME METHOD I turned myself from a wreck to a Champion of Champions.

Which of these 2 one time WEAKLINGS PAID only a Few Cents to become an

All-Around HE-MAN?

Which One Paid Hundreds Of Dollars?

Rex Ferrus was a weakling, paid a few cents to start building at home into a Champion All-Around He-Man!

Larry Campbell paid me hundreds of dollars to train at my side years ago. Start to become an All-Around He-Man at home with these same secrets for only a few cents like Rex Ferrus did! Now Rex is tops in Sports, Job, Popularity, as you can be.

"Hey, You SKINNY Bag of Bones!"

That's what the bays shouted at me ONLY A FEW WEEKS AGO... But look at me NOW, PAL...

A Trophy-Winning JOWETT HE-MAN
Like YOU can be SOON!

5 WAY PROGRESSIVE POWER will make YOU an ALL-AROUND WINNER
